Your Role as a Juror

As a juror, you are responsible for listening to all the evidence presented in a case and then deliberating with your fellow jurors to reach a verdict. Your decision will ultimately determine the guilt or innocence of the defendant. This is a weighty responsibility, but it is one that is essential to the proper functioning of our justice system.

The Importance of Impartiality

One of the most important qualities of a juror is impartiality. This means that you must be able to put aside any personal biases or preconceptions and judge the case solely on the evidence presented in court. It is essential that you remain open-minded and willing to change your opinion based on the facts.

The Jury Selection Process

The jury selection process is designed to ensure that the jury is representative of the community and that no one is excluded from serving based on race, gender, religion, or other protected characteristics. During the selection process, the judge and lawyers will ask you questions to determine whether you are qualified to serve on the jury.

Your Rights as a Juror

As a juror, you have certain rights, including the right to:

- Be treated with respect by the judge, lawyers, and court staff
- Ask questions about the case
- Deliberate with your fellow jurors in private
- Reach a verdict based on the evidence presented in court

The Benefits of Jury Duty

In addition to the satisfaction of fulfilling your civic duty, there are also several benefits to serving on a jury, including:

- Learning about the legal system

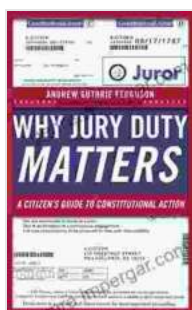

- Gaining a better understanding of your community
- Meeting new people
- Making a positive contribution to society

Jury duty is an important civic responsibility that everyone who is eligible should be willing to perform. By serving on a jury, you play a vital role in ensuring the fair and impartial trials that are the foundation of our society. It is a challenging but rewarding experience that can make a real difference in the lives of others.

If you have been called for jury duty, do not hesitate to serve. Your participation is essential to the proper functioning of our justice system.
